LOCAL NEWS.

A Doctor's Mistake and a Patient's Luck.

Los Angeles Wins the Southern California Base-Ball Championship,

In a Superbly Played Game of Eleven Innings Yesterday.

A Savage Dog's Dreadful Assault—A Suggestive Dodger Circulated—A Fearful Fall from a Moving Train—The Bell Libel Suit—A Hung Jury, Etc.

At about 10 a.m. yesterday Charles Waterhouse, an employé of Porter Bros. & Co., drove to the little fruit stand at 227 South Spring to deliver some fruit. He had hardly stepped out of his wagon when he was taken deathly sick, and had just time to stagger to a chair and sink into it. The frightened witnesses saw him jerking in muscular convulsions, and ran to his assistance. He gasped: "Boys, I'm dying! Send for a doctor." Some one ran and got Dr. Will Lindley, a couple of doors below. The Doctor came at once, and none too soon. He discovered symptoms of belladonna poisoning, and asked Waterhouse what he had been taking. For answer the victim ran his hand into his pocket and pulled out a number of powders, which confirmed the Doctor's suspicions. It was a close shave to save Waterhouse's life, and took unremitting work till 5 p.m. to get him out of immediate danger. The Doctor thinks that had he been called ten minutes later it would have been too late. At 5 o'clock Waterhouse was taken to the Sisters' Hospital, where he is expected to recover.

It seems that Waterhouse has been having trouble with his heart, and got his physician—a well-known doctor—to prescribe for him. The prescription was put up at a leading drug store and consisted of ten grains of hyoscianine and fifteen grains of belladonna, the whole being made up into thirty powders—a tremendous overdose.

GOOD BALL.

The Los Angeles Club Win the Third Game and the Championship.

The deciding game of the series between the Los Angeles Club and San Luis Obispo Club, for the championship of Southern California, was played yesterday, and was decidedly the best game ever played in Southern California. The home club won the game after an exciting struggle lasting eleven innings. In the eleventh inning Williams, the first man to the bat for the home team, hit to McCalvey, the shortstop of the San Luis boys, who threw him out to O'Neil at first. Coacher, the next man for Los Angeles, made a base-hit into right center, and Monroe, the next batter, after making the catcher drop the pitched ball and allowing Coacher to secure second, hit hard through short for a base-hit. On this hit Coacher scored, winning the game for the Los Angeles Club amidst great applause. Haydock and Elwell, the battery of the San Luis Club, did some excellent playing, the cool pitching of Haydock being especially noteworthy. McCalvey, at short, and Nagle, at second, also played their positions well. O'Neil, at first, is a "dandy," accepting thirteen difficult chances. Tunnell, the left-fielder of the visitors, made an excellent catch of a short-hit fly that undoubtedly saved runs for the Los Angeles boys. Too much cannot be said in praise of their excellent playing. They show good, patient training and coaching. Hapeman, the new pitcher, although but 19 years old, showed in yesterday's game that he was an old man in the position, and, backed by Monroe, and under the coaching of the "old man," pitched the finest game ever pitched in the city. He is beyond a question one of the coming pitchers. Monroe caught an extraordinarily good game, and threw well to bases. George's first-base play was, as usual, fine, notwithstanding his error. Clapp, for a man out of practice, made some very brilliant plays. Swan, in left field, caught a fly, after a hard run. Ramsey, the umpire, during all the kicks and squabbles, kept perfectly cool, and satisfied both clubs, and also the audience. Following is the score:

A STRANGE SCHEME.

A Prominent Angeleño to Be "Fully Illustrated."

A small dodger has been received in this city by the newsdealers for general circulation. It starts off by giving a miniature head of the New York Police Gazette, its editor and place of publication, and right under this is a rough cut of a man and two women. The man is sitting on a plush chair, and on his lap is a young woman, dressed in tights, with a fancy jacket and a plug hat jauntily on the side of her head. The man has her in a close embrace, and is gazing up at her face in a most confiding manner. The other female is dressed in a similar manner, but has a diseased look on her face, and seems to be on the verge of suicide. Around the cut it is stated that a certain prominent lawyer, who is also a deacon in a Los Angeles M. E. Church [giving his name], has been fully illustrated, and his history given in plain language, in the issue of June 24th. Soon after the newsdealers realized the nature of the dodgers they destroyed every one of them, and it is understood that the Police Gazette of the above date will not be sold in this city. Others say that a large number of copies have been ordered on the quiet. A private dispatch was received at the office of a prominent newsdealer, saying that the history covers three or four pages.

IMMIGRATION ASSOCIATION.

The Quiet but Effective Work it Has Done and Is Doing.

In most cases let a man grow rich and he will not recognize his poor acquaintances. This rather mean vein in our human nature crops out in many instances where gratitude would be more becoming. These reflections are called forth in connection with the labor of love done for this city, and in fact for Southern California in general, by the Immigration Association in the days when the boom was a mere dream. Those who are now reaping the rich harvest of the boom that is now flooding this whole section, or at least many of them, know but little of the untiring work of the small band of patriots who, as members of this association, devoted much of their time in disseminating information about the matchless resources of this country. Tons upon tons of printed matter were sent broadcast, an untold number of letters had to be answered, and a place for headquarters had to be kept up. The means to carry on the work of the association were furnished by subscription on the part of a few of our public-spirited citizens and corporations, whose support was enlisted by the various members of the association, and to whom this whole community owes a debt of gratitude.

The grand results of the Chicago fair, apart from the other work, originated or carried out by the Immigration Association, cannot be overestimated, and now that

THE FOURTH.

Measures for the Celebration Still Booming Ahead.

The glorious Fourth booms on apace. The following circular, mailed to every business house in the city, speaks for itself:

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

LOS ANGELES, June 27, 1887.—DEAR SIR: A display by the various trades in the city will be one of the features in the procession on the Fourth of July, and it is desirable that as fine a display as possible be made. To that end a special invitation is hereby extended to you to exhibit your business on that day in any desirable manner, thereby enlarge the procession and benefit your business.

Space will be allotted you in the procession upon notice being given to the grand marshal early on the morning of the Fourth.

J. DOWNEY HARVEY,
Grand Marshal.

H. T. HAZARD,
Chairman Executive Committee.

SCOURING THE COUNTRY.

The Fourth of July committee is doing all in its power to make the celebration in this city a success. A member of the committee has been through the country towns engaging music, and if all goes well there will be ten or twelve bands in the procession. Several of the towns near Los Angeles had thought of getting up celebrations of their own, but they have about given up such ideas, and will join with this city in making a celebration that has never been surpassed in Southern California.

Pasadena's Toot.

Lovely Pasadena will have an elegant celebration of her own. As THE TIMES has already noted, the citizens have purchased Smith & Walker's handsome brass six-pounder, and with this the Sons of Veterans will fire twenty-one salutes at sunrise and twenty-one at noon. The following order of march has been decided upon:

Grand marshals and aides.
Pasadena Brass Band.
Phil Kearney Camp, Sons of Veterans.
City Trustees, in carriages.
Orator, chaplain and reader, in carriages.
Library Trustees, in carriages.
John F. Godfrey Post No. 93, G. A. R.
Pasadena Division No. 32, Uniform Rank, K. of P.
Pasadena Legion No. 18, Select Knights, A. O. U. W.
Pasadena Lodge No. 151, A. O. U. W.
Pasadena Lodge No. 324, I. O. O. F.
Union No. 186, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.
Pasadena Lodge No. 272, F. & A. M.
Citizens afoot.
Pasadena Pioneers, in carriages.
Citizens in carriages.

The line of march will be as follows, the procession forming on Marengo avenue, with the right resting on Kansas street: On Marengo avenue north to Colorado street, to Pasadena avenue, to Kansas street, to Fair Oaks avenue, to Locust street, to Raymond avenue, to the Library grounds.

The orator of the day will be Gen. W. A. Pile, of Monrovia; reader of the Declaration of Independence, J. E. Clarke; chaplain, Rev. Cornelius. A solo will be sung by Mr. Cogswell, of Sierra Madre Villa, and addresses will be delivered by Rev. Conger and by T. C. Hopkins, president of the Library Trustees. The corner stone of the new Public Library will be laid with Masonic honors.

FERTILE ARIZONA.

Something About Phœnix and the Great Salt River Valley.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] To the average Southern Californian, accustomed to the limited and economical use of water in irrigation, nothing is more surprising than the immense supply furnished by the Salt and Verde rivers, now flowing in the various canals, and the apparently wasteful and unlimited use of it. Going northward from Phœnix you cross successively the Salt River Valley, Maricopa, Grand and Arizona canals—each large enough and with a sufficient flow of water to float a good-sized canal boat—the Arizona having a capacity of 30,000 inches. On the south side of the river, in the vicinity of Mesa City and Tempé, three or four other great canals tap the stream and distribute water over a vast area of fertile, but hitherto parched and unproductive land. Above all these canals, where the river flows within the rocky barriers, there must be from 150,000 to 200,000 inches of water at the present time—a supply greater perhaps than can be found in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and San Diego. I am informed that a few miles above the head of the Arizona Canal the river passes through a narrow, rocky gateway, with nearly perpendicular sides about 150 feet high, immediately above which lies a large valley capable of being converted into an immense reservoir holding thousands of billions of gallons of water, by constructing a rock and concrete dam, if necessary, on the plan of the Bear Valley dam, back of San Bernardino. A great syndicate of wealthy capitalists, of which our most highly-esteemed and energetic fellow-citizen, J. de Barth Shorb, is president, with a capital stock of $3,000,000, now controls, it is understood, all the canals and water-supply, and will hereafter distribute the life-giving fluid much more judiciously and satisfactorily than has in former years been the case. There must be at least 300,000 acres of land in the Salt River Valley capable of irrigation, and plenty of water for all if economically used and distributed, as it is a well-known fact that the longer land in irrigated the less water is required year by year. It is not at all an improbable prophecy to predict that a quarter of a century hence this valley, when subdivided and peopled as we are now subdividing and peopling Southern California, will contain 300,000 inhabitants, with Phœnix as substantial, wealthy and important a city as Los Angeles is now.

Whoever would see the "desert made to blossom like the rose," literally, and learn what industry and the application of water can do for a sterile region, may here at Mesa City behold the exemplification. Eight or nine years ago a company of Mormons from Southern Utah, sent out by the church authorities to proselytize (or prostitutize, which?) among the "Gentiles," sat down on the parched and arid plain where the Mesa settlement now stands. "Money or script had they none," only strong hands and hearts and "faith," however false and bigoted, that like the true, will sink mountains into molehills and overcome the world. They went to work, men, women and children, digging ditches, planting trees and vines for shade and fruit, building adobe houses, and enclosing their small holdings of a few acres each with massive walls or fences of adobe or sun-baked mud, the cost of constructing which in labor, at least, was great. Now they have miles of finely-shaded streets and roadways, green and waving fields of alfalfa, herds of fat and contented cows and stock of all kinds, orchards and vineyards, fields of wheat, abundance of everything, women and children included. Of course, they will tell you the Lord has prospered them because they are "His chosen people," but any other community of persons could accomplish similar results with like industry, perseverence and economy. Just now the "Saints" are suffering "persecution" at the hands of "a wicked Government," and it is understood that several of the "elders" are absent from the bosoms of their wives and families, in enforced retirement at Yuma, but, aside from their "religion," they are certainly a model people in many respects. At the house of one of the good old elders we saw peach trees that had made a growth last year of fifteen and twenty feet from the bud, and a Sultana grapevine that already this year had sent out numerous runners from twelve to fifteen feet in length, and one fully eighteen feet, and this only the 10th of June. All the vineyards we saw in the valley were well-laden with fine clusters, and, with her almost cloudless skies, and entire absence of dews and fogs, it is safe to predict for Arizona a grand future in the production of early choice table grapes for the markets East and West, and the finest and most perfect raisins in the world. More in my next.

God Bless the Devil.

[Printers' Circular.]

The devil arose fram his little bed
And washed his face and combed his head.

The devil to breakfast gayly went
And gorged himself to his heart's content.

The devil, with many a merry jest,
Gave to the meal an added zest.

The devil's mother poured out the tea,
And smiled at her son's impulsive glee.

The devil finished his early meal,
And started away on a nimble heel.

"For you know," he said, "I make it by six,
Or the foreman will treat me to sundry kicks."

"God bless you, son," said the devil's ma,
As the devil caught on a passing car.

"God bless the devil?" 'Tis strange, yet true;
Of a printer's devil I'm talking to you.

Special Announcement.

The first advance in the price of Ivanhoe lots was made June 1st, as per advertisement for several months. For various good reasons, some of the lots are left at the original prices for another month; but most of them have been advanced 30 to 50 per cent. Even at advanced prices it is the best property offered for the money anywhere around Los Angeles, and buyers should choose their lots before the next advance, which will be made in July. The sale of lots in May was larger than in any previous month, and the end of June will find most of the lots sold. All who see Ivanhoe agree that it is the best property for the least money that can be found. The water system and the dummy road will both be ready by July, and many houses will be built in the next two months. If you want a first-class, large lot, for a small sum of money, come at once. Byram & Poindexter, 27 West First street.

Notice!

Order No. 2.

Business houses, trades and representatives of manufacturing or business industries are respectfully invited to participate in the celebration of the Fourth of July.

Those wishing to join the parade will please report at once to Eugene Germain, Marshal Fifth Division; J. Downey Harvey, Grand Marshal, 219 N. Main street; M. G. Jones, Chief of Staff.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad will run very close to Manzanita Heights. Three street railroads are pushing out in that direction, and the lots in that locality will be very valuable in a short time. A year ago lots in Bonnie Brae tract could be bought for $500 each; now they are worth $2500. Remember this and buy a lot in Manzanita Heights. Lots are from $100 to $400 each. Billings & McGown, 19 North Spring street.

Ward, 4 Court street.

Only fifteen minutes' ride by the Southern Pacific Railroad, and one hour's ride through a fine valley by carriage, commanding a fine view of Los Angeles, on the south, and a superb view of the entire San Fernando Valley on the north. We request investors to go there and see if this statement is exaggerated.

W. E. Cox, of the firm of Cox & Son, 707 Olive street, has this day (June 24, 1887,) sold out his interest in business to W. B. Cox. All bills to be paid to W. B. Cox on and after this date.

Port Ballona.

The Future Harbor of Southern California.

THIS IS THE OCEAN TERMINUS OF THE CALIFORNIA CENTRAL RAILROAD, OF THE ATCHISON, Topeka and Santa Fé system, who are under contract to lay five miles of sidetracks at this point by July 10, 1887—the shortest railroad line between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. PORT BALLONA is situated on Santa Monica Bay, only thirty minutes' ride by rail from the City of Los Angeles, with trains to begin running every three hours in the day early in July. Property can be purchased now at a much lower figure than when railroads and steamships are brought together. PORT BALLONA has two main avenues, one 100 feet and one 80 feet wide, with all other streets 60 feet. Residence lots are 50x150, and business lots 25x100 and 25x150 feet. The residence property is at an elevation of from 50 to 75 feet above tide-water, thus affording a most magnificent view, extending from Point Duma to the San Jacinto Mountains, and from the San Bernardino Mountains to Santa Catalina Island in the Blue Pacific, and with a Beach unsurpassed on the Coast.

The Beautiful Lake of Ballona

Is one of the greatest features of the place, affording, at all times, a perfectly safe and pleasant place for Sailing and Boating of all kinds, and teeming with Fish and Water Fowl. There is also a never-failing Spring of Pure Sulphur Water, and both sulphur and salt water bath-houses are already in course of construction.

☞Water will be delivered in iron pipes in front of each lot under good pressure.

☞Lots are now on sale, and maps and all other information can be obtained from

BURTON MOUND,

A Seaside Hotel Resort at Santa Barbara.

IN SEEKING FOR A PLACE TO erect a large hotel to accommodate tourists and other guests, perhaps none can be found combining more attractions than the "Burton Mound." Situated at the foot of the long, gentle slope on which the city of Santa Barbara lies, the 25-acre tract called "Seaside Hotel Property" has the advantage of a mound, which comprises about three acres, rising above the surrounding lands to the height of twenty feet. This mound rises gradually, and is sufficiently level on top to admit of large buildings, with cottages surrounding. While in the city, it seems in the country. It is one tier of blocks from the busiest street and wharf, and runs down to tidewater, with a wide, smooth beach in front. No miasmatic swamps are near. The temperature is warm in winter and cool in summer. Temperature of ocean water varies but eight degrees in the whole year. Ocean bathing is practiced by many the whole year round. It holds in view the ocean, mountains, foothills, islands and beautiful valleys of Carpinteria and Montecito. The Old Mission Church is seen in the northwest, and the beautiful grounds and mansion of Mr. Dibblee on the high lands adjacent.

A spring of sulphur water bubbles up on one side of the mound, and another in which iron predominates springs from the other side, so that baths of these two, and of the ocean water as well, and baths of pure, cold, soft water may be had at trifling expense.

☞This choice and desirable site for a seaside hotel is for sale. Inquiries may be made in person or by letter of any of the following stockholders or directors:

DR. J. B. SHAW,
MILO SAWYER,
FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF SANTA BARBARA.
THOMAS R. DIBBLEE,
BENJAMIN BURTON,
FRISSIUS & HERNSTER,
ESTATE OF COL. W. W. HOLLISTER,
Directors of Seaside Hotel Association of Santa Barbara.

BEAUTIFUL BURTON MOUND!

EAST SANTA MONICA

Now offered at private sale, and very near auction figures. Over 150 lots have been sold in this tract, many of which will be improved at once. Many improvements are in contemplation, including an artesian well, the contract for which has been already let.

A railroad and depot is almost a certainty. We expect to make of East Santa Monica one of the most desirable and attractive towns on the coast. The location is unsurpassed, view unexcelled. Now is your time to invest, as prices will be advanced July 10, 1887. Lots all sizes, from 50 feet front to 10 acres; prices from $150 up; easy terms. A carriage will take you to the tract on the arrival of the train at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. It costs you nothing to see the most magnificent tract on the coast. TAKE NOTICE: Office now 120 W.

The Extremist in Style and What She Looks Like—A New Method of Fitting Sleeves—Dressmakers in General—A Story with a Scare in It.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 10.

The woman who thinks she is stylish and is not takes many shapes. Sometimes she is far in the rear of the procession and yet fancies that everything she has on is quite up to the strongest fashionable snuff. Sometimes she is fantastic to the point of comic opera burlesque, and yet carries herself with serious self satisfaction. Sometimes she is merely an exaggerator, one who is so afraid of not being stylish that she overdoes it and becomes ridiculous. When hats are high hers towers above all others. When sleeves are tight hers mortify the flesh by their faultless fit.

I met one of these complacent creatures the other day, and behold, I give her picture for all the world to see. She was on Fifth avenue, moving in conscious grandeur, towed by a frowsy gray dog about the size of a quart cup. The little animal wore a ribbon to match the bow on her parasol, a vivid red, just back of his left ear. As the schoolmaster says, he "presented the appearance" of being sensible of his and his owner's absurdity, but couldn't help himself, and bore his humiliation with commendable meekness.

SHE WAS ON FIFTH AVENUE.

His owner's gown was of gray, a pretty, soft wool; but, oh, the effect! Her waist was a mere goblet stem; the front of her dress was a level of dazzlingly accurate box plaits; the rear drapery was comically bouffant. The puffs on the sleeves were something fearful in volume, while her bonnet reached up till it was in danger of tickling the nose of the man in the moon, if she had worn it out when he was visible. Slung over her shoulder was a parasol of scarlet covered with cream lace, and topped off with a bow similar to that worn by her conductor—the dog. Add to this a face like that of a figure in a fashion plate, and a walk that was half teeter, half waddle, and you have the exaggerator as I saw her in the full bloom of powder, paint and self approbation—an exaggerator in everything but intellect, moving in an atmosphere of self satisfaction so comfortable that even sensible mortals—I admit it—envied her egotism, if not her absurdity.

I think I have told before of the never dying rage for dresses that fit as though they were a part of the flesh. A man milliner, a Frenchman, has arrived here with a new system of "giving fits," flawless fits. This is the way he does it as I was told by one of his subjects: His wife takes the customer's measure very carefully, cuts a shape out of a clinging, felt like cloth, covers it with a thin layer of wadding and fits it on with the most painstaking care. It must not have so much as the intention of a wrinkle in it. When this process is completed, the Frenchman himself comes in, examines it, pronounces upon it, and, perhaps, orders it taken up here or let out there. When these alterations are made to suit him, he brings in a pail of smoking hot wax and a brush, and, calmly goes to work and paints the newly fitted waist all over. Meantime, and for some future time, the subject must stand perfectly still. She must not move a shoulder until the coating is perfectly dry. The whole process takes about two hours. When it is concluded the subject is "worn to the bone," but she will never have to be fitted again—not unless her figure changes a great deal. Now, is not that something new under the sun in the fitting of women's garments? They say that this particular man milliner is the only person who works the wax fitting system on American soil. He has only been here a short time and has an army of customers.

Aye, there's the rub—the army of customers. It is the particular rub for the individual customer. Too much custom maketh the heart of the dressmaker arrogant, proud and in no hurry to finish the work it has engaged. If you once put your work in the hands of a New York dressmaker you are as good as lost; at least you are completely at her mercy. The season goes by and you can't get it done or get it away undone. The trouble is she has too much custom. She takes all and finishes none till she sees her own time. And you can't help yourself, for no other dressmaker will do any better by you. Reason? Skilled modistes, like skilled everything, are scarce. The woman who can cut, fit, finish and give style to dresses can have all the work she wants in New York after it gets out that she can do her work well. She can worry the life out of her customers by delays and indifference, and they will stick to her. It only proves that competency will succeed in anything. The world is cursed with incompetents—persons who never learn to do anything well, and yet assume to know how. The competent person rarely lacks business or a situation. There is one rule for success, and it is very simple: Do your work well. That is all there is of it. If you do not know how to do your work well, learn. It is never too late to either mend or learn. Nobody gets too old to be taught. Only the ignorant know so much that they can learn no more.

Puffs on your dress sleeves are as necessary to your existence now as air. Not on cloth dresses, to be sure, but on soft wools and surahs. If you are puffless you will see yourself in the show windows and be frightened. Perhaps you will not recognize yourself, you will seem so unlike the beautiful butterflies which flit past you. Or, worse still, you will recognize yourself and be so depressed over it that you will have to go home and go to bed.

That reminds me of something I heard the other day. You will not believe it, but the landlady of a swell boarding house told it to me, and she swore it was as true as truth. Beyond that I can't go.

One of her boarders, Mrs. S., was getting along into the era of fading charms. Nature was getting recalcitrant in the matter of hair, complexion, etc. Youth had turned its back upon her. Still she fenced with time, the enemy, quite well. Nobody came down to the table in braver feathers than she. With the aid of a full purse and the artifices of the hair dyer, the cosmetic merchant and the unspeakable dressmaker, she carried considerable sail, and in more than one instance evaded the fleet. She was a widow and entitled to her chances, you see. One evening the landlady heard screams proceeding from Mrs. S.'s room. Accompanied by two or three excited female boarders she rushed thither at once. Mrs. S., partially denuded and quite divested of everything stylish and stunning in hair and paint, was rushing wildly about declaring that she had seen a terrible old hag right there in the room with her. "Nonsense!" the others said. Nevertheless they searched. No hag. Mrs. S. moved about in dismay and scant attire, reiterating the description of the hag. As she proceeded the faces of her visitors twitched nervously. Suddenly she stopped in front of her dressing case, threw up her arms and began to cry like a baby. "There she is," she said, pointing at the mirror. Simultaneously with the unearthing of the hag came the appalling revelation that she had been frightened at her own image. It was a case which called for tears and not laughter. The other women tried to comfort her, but it was no easy task. At last they went away, leaving her to her new and overwhelming sense of personal hideousness. It was a lesson to all of them, too. They dared not exult over it, for every one of them had had a squint at the foe—old age—as he lurked ahead of them on life's road, knowing full well that if they traveled on they would be obliged to come up and have a hand to hand tussle with him.

Take this story for what it is worth. It has its uses quite aside from truth. If it teaches anything, it is not to rely wholly on external aids. I say this seriously. Be beautiful in spirit and time will pass you by without marking you. Nay, he dare not lay a finger on you, for you are made of stuff he cannot crumble. Sometime I will say something more about the most wonderful and beautiful of all fashions—that of being eternally young.

What is Done with the Articles Picked Up in the Trains.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 15.

It is a very barren beach that cannot furnish some specimens of flotsam and jetsam. So on all great routes of travel there is an average of lost articles left in the wake of excited or forgetful persons. On such means of conveyance as the steam cars, horse cars or elevated trains one would expect to find lost articles, for it is very easy for human nature to forget, and the temptation to lay articles down on the seats is too great to be resisted, and the habit of getting up and leaving the articles is natural to many people. It is not surprising, then, that many persons leave many things in the cars.

But one does not expect to hear the same thing about people crossing the great Brooklyn bridge. Their trip on the cars is too short, one would think, for them to lay their portable property down. On the promenade certainly one would scarcely look for an article that had been laid down and then forgotten.

But the exhibit at Capt. Ward's office tells a different story. The cars supply the greater quantity of lost articles, but the promenade also pours in a great variety. It is supposed people become absorbed in the views from the great structure, and so forget all else. Certain it is that they do leave some odd articles. Umbrellas are very common. Handkerchiefs are frequently picked up. An opera glass occasionally turns up. Canes are numerous. Bits of jewelry are quite often dropped, especially rings. These are more numerous in the mornings following moonlight evenings. It would seem that spooning couples have the ring in hand while discussing the momentous question, and, dropping it, cannot find it, and are just a little too bashful to speak about the matter. So the jeweler profits by it, for of course a new one must be bought, as bridge courtships practically always have a happy ending.

A great many single kid gloves are found in the course of a year, and one lady's bustle was left behind. Babies' toys are very often found, and rubber rings enough to supply a foundling institution. A baby carriage was once left on the center of the promenade, but it did not get as far as the officers' headquarters. The mother came after it quite out of breath as the patrolman was trundling it along.

Probably the oddest thing that ever was found on the bridge was a set of false teeth. The owner came after them, but not until he had visited his office, his lunching place and his favorite sample room. He was quite unable to say how they had escaped from his mouth. Besides these unique and valuable articles there is a large number that are of no value.

After holding for a reasonable length of time for the owners to call and identify, those that are not claimed are given to the conductors or patrolmen that found them.

But there are also many things lost that are not found. On a breezy day a hat occasionally goes sailing over the cables and drops into the river. Straw hats have quite a penchant that way, and occasionally derbys. Some of the latter are now made with little eyelets for strings with which to hold them. The ladies keep theirs fast to their hair with the large pins that occasionally endanger gentlemen's eyes in the joltings of cars. But sometimes these pins hold on altogether too well. At least that is what one lady thought as she saw her bonnet go sailing over the bosom of the river with her false curls dangling behind it. The despair of that woman was really pitinble.

But the most amusing loss was that of an elderly gentleman, who took off his hat one day to mop his brow as he was walking briskly from Brooklyn to New York. A wicked gust of wind came along just then, and catching up his wig it carried it high in the air, where it circled for some seconds. The bare poll of the wretched man glistened in the sun as he gazed wildly at his lost ornament. Then the wig slowly settled. A crowd gathered on the edge of the promenade to watch it. At last it fluttered down upon the pilot house of the ferry boat Alaska and was carried toward the New York shore. The owner, who by that time was almost crazed, rushed along the promenade to claim his property when the boat reached her slip; but, alas, another gust caught up the wig and dropped it into the water, and the propeller of a tug tore it into shreds.

Oh, Sarah Jane, my Sarah Jane, when will this thing be o'er, of cleaning house, of washing walls and scrubbing every floor? For seven days I've stood it now, for seven days of care, of eating cheese and pickled pork and sleeping on a chair. I'm sick of seeing carpets piled in heaps upon the ground; I'm sick of hearing tinware cleaned with harsh and grating sound; I'm sick of dust and mops and brooms, of scrub and scrape and grind, I hate to see you snorting round as though you'd lost your mind. Now let us put the lounge in place and nail the carpet down, and substitute that ragged dress with some more decent gown. I'd sooner live within a house that never knew a broom, than eat cold hash and waste my life 'mid mops and rags and gloom. You say you'll do it, Sarah Jane! No more the peace you'll mar? Then glory to the Lord of Hosts, from whom all blessings are!"—Atchison Globe.

TRADE S.S.S. MARK.

A Positive Proof That Cancer Can Be Cured.

Mr. A. R. Shands is a well-known farmer, whose residence is in Spartanburg, S. C. He is a man of means and education. His standing in his community is A 1 for truth and probity. While Mr. Shands refrains from using the word cancer, the facts he gives settles the question of the nature of his disease. He says his physicians never said the sore was a cancer, but that they all warned him that there was great danger that it might turn into a cancer. At any rate none of them could afford Mr. Shands the slightest relief, and finally he was cured by S. S. S., the finest and only absolutely certain blood purifier in the world. Below is Mr. Shands' own letter about his cure. Let any one suffering from a similar ailment write to Mr. Shands and learn from him the exact effects of the wonderful medicine that cured him.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

GENTLEMEN: For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took.

Yours truly, A. R. SHANDS.

GRAND DISTRIBUTION OF LOTS
—IN—
REECE'S ADDITION TO OCEANSIDE!
—TO TAKE PLACE—
MONDAY - - - - - - - AUGUST 1, 1887.

230—LOTS—230 AT $150—EACH—$150.

WITH A CHANCE OF GETTING ONE HOUSE WORTH $1000, ONE HOUSE worth $800, one house worth $700, one house worth $600, and one of five houses worth $500 each.

REECE'S ADDITION adjoins the beautiful town of Oceanside on the northeast, one-half mile from the beach, just far enough to be protected from the cool winds off the ocean, but commanding a beautiful view of the water, making it the most delightful and desirable point for residence.

The addition lies three or four hundred yards east of the Oceanside Water Company's pipe-line, and the company agrees to put water upon the tract as soon as building has commenced.

OCEANSIDE is destined to be the Cape May and Long Branch of the Coast. It is situated on the California Southern Railroad, forty miles north of San Diego. Grading has already begun on the Santa Ana branch out of Oceanside, making this the junction of the two roads. It is also the terminus of the San Diego Central, and is on surveyed route of Southern Pacific, and is rapidly building up. There are now some six or seven hundred inhabitants and about fifty places of business.

There are now two good hotels in operation and a new one nearly completed, which will cost, without furniture, in the neighborhood of $30,000. Plans for a still larger and finer one are now in the hands of the architect. A large two-story brick, 100 feet square and two stories, is now under construction for a bank, on the corner of Hill street, and about five minutes' walk from the addition.

Work will begin on the wharf the coming week. It is to be 1500 feet long, with 35 feet of water at low tide. It is to cost $30,000, and all the stock is taken. A syndicate of Eastern capitalists has bought all the water at Monsarratt and Pala, and are at work now piping the cool mountain water into the town of Oceanside, and the pipe-line will cross or pass very near to the addition.

Reece Bros. bind themselves to build the above-described houses ready to hand the key to the lucky owners in the distribution at the same time with the deed. For further particulars and maps inquire of

WHEN a young man and his best girl stop at the soda-water fountain they have two "phizzes" together, and later on they have two phizzes together on the sofa at home, with the gas turned down.

MONTECITO, Santa Barbara's charming little suburb, has been struck by Southern California's ever-widening boom, and its deal in real estate one day last week amounted to $24,000. That is the first sign of the coming harvest.

OUR California redwood is growing popular at the East, and is coming largely into use for veneering purposes. It is introduced as "French mahogany," which is sufficient, in addition to its beauty, to create an extensive demand for it.

THE Boston Record says that "it is a good preacher or a strong force of habit that draws people to church on a fine Sunday." Yes, we have heard that women go to church to display their habits, especially if the "habit" includes a nice new bonnet.

COL. LINN, of the Park Theater, Brooklyn, is said to be proud of his genealogical tree; but, though its branches reach far into antiquity, he lacks one or two links to make perfect the connection with the chap who wriggled into Eve's affections.

IT is claimed, as the result of a severe analysis, that the San Luis Obispo bituminous rock is superior to the famous Santa Cruz article, which has been used to such an extent in San Francisco and other cities for paving purposes. If it be so, San Luis Obispo has a good thing.

The Times Building—An Invitation.

Next Friday, July 1st, the Times Building, which is now completed and occupied, will be thrown open to the public for inspection. Those who wish to look through one of the finest newspaper buildings on the Pacific Coast and witness the workings of a complete newspaper, job-printing and binding establishment should take advantage of the invitation now extended. Visitors will be welcome from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., during which hours all, or nearly all, of the presses will be running. The job-printing and binding departments will be in full operation up to 6 p.m., and will remain open for inspection until 10 p.m. A special invitation is extended to business men and their families and to all patrons of the paper. Those who cannot visit us on Friday will be welcome on subsequent days.

It is the purpose of the management to fix an early day for a visit from the children of the public and private schools of the city. THE TIMES takes a great deal of interest in "Our Boys and Girls" and would like to afford them all an hour of enjoyment. Due notice will be given of our "children's day."

Altered Circumstances.

The Bulletin makes the following admission, the truth of which is patent to the most casual observer:

The manner in which the State Board of Health dealt with the outbreak of the disease in Los Angeles, which was brought to that city from Mexico last winter, was in marked contrast to the methods employed in this city. The quarantine which was established by the State Board was so effectual that no case of the disease occurred in that city, and there were few instances outside of Los Angeles. The present outbreak of the disease in San Francisco is due solely to the laxity which characterizes the administration of the laws relating to health and those which are supposed to have been enacted for the purpose of excluding from the country Chinamen who have no right to enter.

The zeal of these able guardians of the public health seems to have exhausted itself in their establishment of the needless quarantine of Los Angeles. There is more damage to the State today from small-pox in San Francisco than there ever was during its existance in Los Angeles. Hundreds of people, according to the statement of the Examiner, were exposed last week by allowing a patient suffering with confluent smallpox to remain all night in the city prison among a hundred or more persons who were made liable by contact with the patient to take and disseminate the disease. The reasons controlling the action of the board in establishing the quarantine for Los Angeles when the real danger was past, and its continuance as long as the smallest possible excuse could be found for it, is, when contrasted with its course in San Francisco, sufficiently apparent without comment.

A WELL-KNOWN Boston minister, who, with the assurance belonging to the genuine Boston article, thinks he knows everything else just as well as he does theology (possibly he does!), is out with an article in which he declares that "the stomach has nothing whatever to do with sea-sickness." Maybe the stomach responds somewhat as the kitten did on a certain occasion. The kitten was given to a little boy and his sister, who, after long trying to say how the possession should be divided, decided that the front half of him should be the girl's, and the rear part the boy's. One day there was a terrible mewing, and the little girl asked: "What is the matter with our cat?" "Oh," said the boy, "I trod on my part and your part hollered."

THE San Francisco Chronicle in, giving a list of the cities where the cable-car system has been introduced, is very careful not to mention Los Angeles, though it goes clear across the continent to speak of other cities, and crosses the ocean to London, where the cable road is just being introduced, and will probably be operated on a large scale. But all the same the cable roads of Los Angeles continue to flourish, bearing their thousands of passengers from the heart of the city over the outlying hills, and stirring up the spirit of improvement all along the line. When our projected cable system is complete we shall be far ahead of any city of our size in the world in the extent and perfection of our cable service.

CARDINAL GIBBONS, directly after his return from Rome, preached to an immense audience in his cathedral in Baltimore. During the sermon he expressed himself very strongly against Anarchism, saying that he who seeks to injure the Government of the United States deserves the punishment of him who attacked the ark of God. No man can be faithful to his God who is a traitor to his country. Sound doctrine, whether Catholic or Unitarian!

PROF. ADAMS, of Cornell, finds that in fifteen of the principal cities the population during the decade ending in 1880 increased 70.5 per cent., taxable valuation 156.9 per cent. and the debt 270.9 per cent. There has been indeed a marked growth in municipal indebtedness, while the nation has been paying off at the rate of a million and a half per week.

A VALUABLE tract of land of some seven thousand acres was recently sold under the hammer in Oneida and Herkimer counties, New York, for from five cents to one dollar an acre. It looks a little as if Henry George's and Father McGlynn's anti-poverty boom had touched it so that the land could be had almost for the asking.

THE San Francisco tax levy has been fixed at $11,478 on the $100.—[Santa Barbara Independent.

Be careful with your points, neighbor; you'll break San Francisco up first thing you know.

IT is stated on supposably good authority that 80,000 people are already booked for Los Angeles, from various parts of the country. It's about time that we set to work to get our streets ready for them. We don't want such an army as that tramping through our winter's mud. When is the paving to begin in earnest?

THE Paducah News is guilty of the following: "The fact, if it be one, that W. H. Doane, of Cincinnati, makes $20,000 a year writing hymns, shows how much better it is to stay in this country than to go out among the heathens of Timbuctoo, where they eat the missionary and his hymnbook too."

THE semi-annual trade number of THE TIMES is now in press, and will be issued Friday morning, July 1st. Advertisers who wish to be represented in the immense edition must hurry in their copy, or they will be "left."

JAY GOULD says the Interstate Railroad Law is beneficial. An exchange thinks that if so, he is justified in being alarmed at the rate at which it is being explained away by the commission.

AMUSEMENTS.

LOUIS HARRISON.—Momus, the merry god, will hold full sway at the opera-house all next week, beginning with a Fourth of July laughing matinée, the occasion being the appearance of the popular comedian, Louis Harrison, and his supporting company, which is of more than ordinary excellence. They will be seen in the presentation of the play that has made all America laugh, Skipped by the Light of the Moon. This production has been a success in all the principal cities of America for the past four years, and is universally conceded to be among the funniest humorous performances yet conceived. The last half of the week will be devoted to the companion play to the above, entitled Out of the Frying-pan into the Fire, a play in which every line constitutes a laugh. The sale of seats commences tomorrow morning.

THE OURA JAPANESE TROUPE.—This company will appear at the Pavilion next Friday evening. The troupe is said to be one of the best of the kind that has ever appeared in this city. They are sixteen in number, including four little Japanese boys, whose feats of balancing and contortion are something marvelous, a number of their feats being entirely new. Seats will be on sale today, at 10 o'clock, at the office of McLain & Lehman.

THE HEROIC ENTERTAINMENT.—It is expected that the huge Hazard Pavilion will be crowded this evening and tomorrow evening, the attraction being the heroic entertainments given by the G. A. R. to raise a fund to make a Los Angeles display at the National Encampment in St. Louis next September. Not only is the object a good one, but the programmes—already printed at THE TIMES—are extremely attractive.

BAND OF HOPE CONCERT.—No institution in this city is doing better work than the Orphans' Home. It is sorely in need of funds, and the Band of Hope has generously volunteered an entertainment for its benefit. This will be given in Armory Hall, Friday evening and Saturday matinée. Mother Goose and her family will be present in costume.

HELD BY THE ENEMY.—Another large audience greeted the second performance of this admirable play last evening. It has become a strong favorite here already, and it is a safe prediction that the attendance will continue large through the week, as it should.

BRIEFS.

The heroic entertainment at the Pavilion tonight.

The High School reunion at Armory Hall tomorrow evening.

The fruit clerks and the printers play base-ball this afternoon for the benefit of the Girls' Home.

There will be a banquet at the Grand View Hotel, Monrovia, tomorrow evening. The Grand View parties are always pleasant.

The pictures taken by Mr. Husher in the Examiner balloon will appear in the edition one week from next Sunday, and not next Sunday as has been erroneously stated.

Board of Supervisors.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment, and the following business was transacted:

In re Sanford Bridge and Downey Road: On motion of Superintendent Venable, the name of James N. Pemberton was substituted in place of John Goldsworthy as viewer.

In re Covered Bridge: Superintendent Venable moved that the city of Los Angeles be allowed to remove such portions of the Macy-street, or covered, bridge as they may deem necessary to secure the safety of the public.

On the motion of Superintendent Martin, a warrant of $10 was drawn in favor of Francisco Castillo, an indigent.

On motion of Superintendent Venable, the petition of the Shaffer-street Railroad was presented and granted. This road, to be worked by cable or horse-power, will begin on Washington street, at the gates of Rosedale Cemetery; thence westerly along Washington street to the intersection of Washington and Clermont streets; thence southerly along Clermont street to Adams; thence westerly through Adams street to the western line of the Joughen tract; also, from the intersection of Clermont and Adams streets easterly through Adams street to the city limits of Los Angeles.

The Board adjourned, to meet on Friday at 10 a.m.

The Courts.

In Judge Cheney's court yesterday the habeas corpus case of Wray, Atkinson and Burrows was continued to June 29th at 10 a.m.

Today the criminal calendar will be called and the cases against the following defendants set for trial: Frank Alviso, J. J. Bodkin, Horace Bell, Ah Charley, John Clark, David Dillon, Ed Davis, Billy Ferris, W. M. Jennings, Jerry Murphy, John C. Moore, B. A. Stephens, G. T. Thompson, F. A. and W. S. Watros, F. Moultrie and Pat Griffin.

JUDGE O'MELVENY.

The case of The People vs. A. M. Thornton and B. A. Stephens for criminal libel was dismissed and bail returned to defendants.

The case of The People vs. F. A. Watros and W. S. Watros was continued for the term.

JUSTICE TANEY.

The People vs. John Madden, charged with assault to murder, continued to June 30th at 3 p.m.

People vs. J. Farrell, battery, fined $5.

Spilled Out.

J. E. Murray was driving a horse attached to a buckboard on Hill street, at Seventh, yesterday afternoon, when the horse became frightened at a piece of paper blowing in the street and became unmanageable. The animal headed for home, on Hill street, a short distance below, and striking the fence, landed Mr. Murray and his son in their own yard. They were not much hurt, but the vehicle was badly smashed. In the tumble Mr. Murray lost a $9 Masonic charm.

Playing It on Posterity.

"Long John" Wentworth, the noted Chicagoan, who is erecting a $30,000 monument for himself in Rosehill Cemetery, has decided to put no inscription on the stone. "Everybody will want to know who is buried there, if they see no name," he says, "and my memory will thus be kept green by the curiosity of future generations."

WASHINGTON.

A Decision Adverse to Kansas Interests,

And Which May Affect Several Other States.

An Amendatory Circular Regarding Desert Land Reclamation.

A Fraudulent Pensioner Forced to Disgorge—Restoration of a Retired Officer to the Service by Order of the President—National Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Secretary of the Interior has decided adversely to the claim of the State of Kansas, under the act of January 29, 1861, admitting her into the Union, to $43,790, being 5 per cent. of the net proceeds of sales of certain lands made between July 11, 1884, and June 3, 1885, heretofore reserved for the Cherokee, Kansas, Miami and Osage tribes. The Secretary in this decision overruled a former action of the Interior Department, whereby similar accounts, aggregating over $500,000, have been certified to and paid to the State by the Treasurer every year since 1861. It is alleged that the State of Kansas will probably apply to the United States Supreme Court for a mandamus to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, to certify her claim to the First Comptroller of the Treasury for payment, which will raise a question of the rights of the State in the premises. This decision will affect all States admitted into the Union since 1857 having Indian lands.

DESERT LANDS.

The Conditions Under Which They May Be Claimed.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Commissioner of the General Land Office has issued to registers and receivers of the United States Land Office an amendatory circular governing proceedings to obtain a title to public lands under the Desert Land Law. According to it, lands bordering upon streams, lakes or other natural bodies of water, or through or upon which there is any river, stream, arroyo, lake, pond, body of water or living spring, are not subject to entry under the Desert Land Law until the clearest proof of their desert character is furnished. Lands containing sufficient moisture to produce a natural growth of trees are not to be classed as desert lands. Surveys of desert land claims cannot be made in advance of the regular progress of public surveys.

Didn't Do Him Much Good.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Francis Patterson, of Elmira, N. Y., better known as "Blind Patterson," who recently obtained considerable notoriety as the recipient of the largest pension ever granted to a private soldier in the United States, and which, it was afterwards discovered, had been fraudulently obtained, was arrested in Gordonsville, Va., today. He had $1600 on his person, and this, together with the money already regained, makes $12,850 which has been recovered by the Government of the $13,250 paid out on account of Patterson's pension.

Restored to the Service.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—An order was issued from the War Department today, by direction of the President, restoring to the army Maj. Benjamin P. Runkle, retired, who was dropped upon the judgment of the Court of Claims. This judgment was reversed by the United States Supreme Court, May 27th. He will be borne upon the rolls as never having been legally separated from the army.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Provisions of the Constitution Soon to Be Adopted.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Returns from several thousand local assemblies of Knights of Labor today show that the new constitution and National Trade Assemblies' clause has been accepted by a three-fourths vote, and it is probable that the General Executive Board will promulgate a new constitution, which contains many important changes, about July 1st. The adoption of this constitution was denied a few days since.

An analysis of the vote shows that half of those assemblies opposing the adoption of the new constitution objected to the clause forbidding any member or assembly to sell or give any malt or spirituous liquors at any meeting or entertainment of the order, under pain of six months' suspension from the order. The clause upon coöperation was adopted unanimously. It provides for the creation and disbursement of a fund to aid coöperative enterprises, and the new constitution gives the General Executive Board power to settle all strikes and disputes regardless of the origin. Each district, State, national or unattached local assembly shall be entitled to one delegate for each 3000 members or a majority fraction thereof. The term of office has been fixed at two years, the compensation to be fixed by the General Assembly at the time of election. The National Trade Assemblies' clause provides that such assemblies may be formed upon a favorable vote, by two-thirds of the local assemblies of that trade making application.

THE A. AND P. R. R.

It Yields a Point and Presents a Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad has heretofore refused to report to the State Board of Railroad Commissioners, holding that it was operating under a patent from the Federal Government, and was consequently required by law to submit a report of its earnings, etc., only to the Secretary of the Interior. Today, however, the company sent a report to the board, showing that during the past fiscal year the freight earnings were $891,830, and transportation earnings, $1,564,096. This is an admission of the board's authority on the part of the Atlantic and Pacific, for that company's officials had been cited to appear and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt in ignoring an order of the Board of Railroad Commissioners.

The average rate of fare per mile for all passengers was .0159; average rate of freight per ton per mile was .076. The Atlantic and Pacific Company did no construction in California, but acquired its road in that State by virtue of a contract-purchase and lease made with the Southern Pacific Company August 20, 1884, whereby said line was to be sold to this company for $7,271,100.

AN ASSASSIN'S DEED.

A Brutal Murder Strikes Terror to a Community.

CHICAGO, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] News reached Ozark, Mo., today, of a foul murder committed in Douglass county last Thursday. Pemberton Putless, while on the way to the mill, was shot and instantly killed by an unknown assassin in ambush. Suspicion rests on a man who received a whipping from "Bald Knobbers" last summer, and the motive of the assassin is supposed to have been revenge. The greatest excitement prevails in the vicinity of the murder, and the farmers are said to be working their crops in squads, no man being willing to risk himself alone in his field.

Foiled Footpads.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 28.—[Special.] This morning about 10 o'clock J. A. Woods, who had just returned from Los Angeles with $500 in his pocket, was robbed by two men, strangers, in the Azusa saloon. The matter was at once reported to Chief of Police Thomas, who soon captured them. Both were jailed, and gave the names of George A. Waters and George Waters. About $300 was recovered.

The Yale Alumni Meeting.

NEW HAVEN, June 28.—Hon. William M. Evarts presided at the alumni meeting held today. The attendance was very large and unusual interest was taken in the proceedings.

Hon. Edward Pierpont, ex-United States Minister to England, expressed the opinion that the course laid down by Yale was too extensive in its acquirements for the average man. Those who intend to become teachers, professors and eminent scholars should be encouraged to take the full course, but the student who is looking forward to a life struggle in the business world should be allowed to pursue a shorter route and get at his life work sooner.

Turbulent Moors.

ALGIERS, June 28.—One hundred Moors bearing firearms attacked the Spahi patrol at Biskara, killing and wounding several. Many Moors were also killed and wounded. The military interfered and stopped the fighting. Thirty Moors were arrested. Quiet has been restored.

Jay Gould Makes Another Big Deal in Railroad Stock—He Claims It a Business Transaction Only.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Jay Gould today purchased a block of 50,000 shares of Manhattan stock from Cyrus W. Field.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Tribune tomorrow will publish a long interview with Jay Gould, in which the millionaire admits he today purchased 50,000 shares of Manhattan elevated stock, as an investment for himself individually, because he thought it a good bargain. He said there was no change in the telegraphic situation. He pronounced the general outlook encouraging. The same paper has an interview with Cyrus W. Field, who declined to give the price the stock sold at. He is still a heavy stockholder in Manhattan and has every confidence in it. The business outlook of the country is good, and there should be an improvement in stocks.

The Tribune adds that the transaction was the general theme of conversation, and that many rumors were afloat, connecting Gould with other important transactions. Among them was one that the telegraph trouble had been settled by Henry S. Ives turning over to Mr. Gould his Baltimore and Ohio option. Another that Gould had forced Henry Hart to sell to him a large block of Pacific Mail, and to give up his fight against the Manhattan elevated on behalf of the Third-avenue surface road, etc. These were denied. The Tribune says: "The general opinion is that Field, who has been a 'bull' on Manhattan, having advanced it to 170 last summer, contrary to the wishes of Gould and Sage, and has succumbed to the campaign against him by those gentlemen. By this transaction Mr. Gould secured control of the elevated road, which Mr. Field has heretofore held."

Los Angeles Boomers Abroad.

[Santa Barbara Press.]

There is a lively boom in Carpinteria lands. The advent of the railroad has stirred up that usually quiet neighborhood and the presence of a party of Los Angeles real-estate men, who are negotiating for a tract of land near the Ashley place has added to the excitement. If these parties succeed in buying the land they want they will found a town there and boom the lots. They are the same people who so successfully built up the town of Monrovia, near Los Angeles.

THE COMING RAILROAD.

During the past week much work has been done on the Santa Barbara extension and the workmen are now stretched out some three miles this side of the Carpinteria wharf. Track is laid as far as the creek, just below Mrs. Ashley's place, and the construction train has reached that point. A pile driver is at work laying the foundation for the bridge across the creek. The roadbed is graded and ready for the rails as far as the Carpenteria wharf. The turntable at Carpinteria is being placed in position, and official orders have been issued for passenger trains to run regularly as soon as everything is ready, which will probably be next saturday.

The work at Ortega hill is now completed with the exception of the approaches at each end. There are about nine hundred men at work between Rincon and Santa Barbara, and unless something unforeseen occurs the road will reach here before the 1st of August. Things are being pushed as rapidly as possible and the entire force at Carpinteria worked all day Sunday.

The road from Newhall to Ventura is in excellent condition. The roadbed is well settled and the trains move as smoothly as though the road had been in operation for years. Trains arrive and depart promptly on time, the run from Los Angeles to Ventura being made in less than four hours.

California Horses Successful in the Eastern Races.

A Threatened Strike—Quotations of California Fruits—Jake Sharp's Critical Condition—Eastern Base-Ball News, Etc., Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The opening stock market was very exciting this morning. All the big operators seemed to be at war with each other. There has been no time since the days of Drew, Little and other old-time operators that individuals made such efforts personally in the Stock Exchange as at the close yesterday and the opening this morning. Reading was the scene of the greatest excitement, and the bulls did their best to support it, but the attacks were too rapid, and they were forced to give way. Manhattan was the weakest stock. It opened 1 per cent. off, at 129. There were no buying orders whatever, and it declined 2 at the time, and is now off eight points from yesterday's close. Pacific Mail was also raided successfully by the bears, and declined to 44½. The story is that all the big operators are gunning for each other. The report of a shipment of $1,000,000 in gold had a good effect on the market, and "shorts" generally began covering. Foreign bankers report a large number of bills offering, and a further decline in exchange rates is considered probable. Money is still scarce, and call loans are being made at rates equal to 30 per cent. per annum.

NEW YORK, June 28—[Noon.]—The market is still very feverish, but a little firmer. Pacific Mail rallied 1. Manhattan, however, after advancing to 128, reached 124. Money 1-16 per cent. per diem and interest.

BARON SEILLEIRE.

His Mysterious Disappearance Accounted For.

NEW YORK, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Times this morning explains the imprisonment of Baron Seilleire, who, about a year ago, was a familiar figure in San Francisco and Monterey, and declared his intention of becoming a citizen of California, as follows: "Baron Seilleire went home to adjust some property he disputes with his sister, the Princess Desagan, wife of the president of the Jockey Club, and one of the best known ladies in Europe. Seilliere had scarcely arrived there before he received an intimation that there was some kind of conspiracy on foot against him, and he made his friends promise that if he disappeared they would hunt him up. Less than a fortnight after his return to Paris a cablegram was received in New York announcing his arrest and imprisonment in a lunatic asylum on demand of his family. Seilliere is the possessor of great wealth, variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, of which a large portion, in the natural order of things, would revert to the family. The Baron is profuse in his expenditures, and has diminished his share considerably. To further prevent this decrease, and to get possession of the balance, which amounts to several millions, was the reason of his imprisonment. His friends engaged experienced detectives, and he was traced to an insane asylum at Vannes. There he remains, and there he is likely to remain, unless our Government recognizes his claim to citizenship and demands his release."

SUNKEN TREASURE.

A Philadelphia Expedition in Search of a Large Amount.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The two-masted schooner W. H. Orr sails this evening for Delaware Breakwater in an endeavor to locate the British sloop-of-war D. E. Brook, which was sunk with $10,000,000 aboard, toward the close of the last century, in an engagement with an American vessel. The D. E. Brook was returning to England from South America, where she had captured three Spanish vessels laden with gold and silver bullion. She was forced to put into Lewes for water, and on the way out to sea again met an American vessel, by which she was sunk. The pilot aboard the D. E. Brook, McCracken, knew the immense wealth she contained, and located her so as to be able to find the place where she sunk. For years the location of the sunken vessel was kept a secret by the McCracken family until two years ago, when an international submarine company was formed, and then the grandson of old Pilot McCracken divulged the secret to the company, so the story goes.

THE GREAT BOODLER.

Likelihood of His Sudden Demise Asserted.

NEW YORK, June 28.—In an extra this evening the Mail and Express says it is believed that Jake Sharp is dying. The reason he did not testify in his own behalf this afternoon, which was confidently expected by every one right along, was because his physician expressed the opinion that the strain of rigid cross-examination, etc., would result in his death. It was reported subsequently that a learned physician is of the opinion that Sharp cannot live more than a week or ten days, and that the least undue excitement might kill him at once, owing to heart troubles. The paper asserts that a scheme is under consideration now to take the case out of the hands of the jury by bringing Judge Barrett a certificate from a physician to the effect that Sharp would in all probability drop dead in the courtroom when the jury brought in its verdict. It is thought this would induce the Judge to stop the case where it is.

AN AVERRED OUTRAGE.

An American Opera Company Imprisoned in an Old Mexican Town, and Subjected to Brutal Treatment.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Witchita, Kan., says: "A. B. Bird, with his wife and daughter, Lotta, has arrived in this city, and relates a terrible story of wrong and suffering endured while confined in prison at Del Norte, in Old Mexico, last winter. Bird was manager of an opera company touring in that country, and while playing in Del Norte the entire company were arrested upon some flimsy pretext, and thrown into the same prison in which Editor Cutting was confined. They were denied a hearing or trial, and were not even allowed to see or converse with Americans, though several tried to see them while they were confined. Four members of the company died of smallpox, while all suffered privations and sickness. Lately the company was released, having lost all their wardrobe and musical instruments. Steps have been taken to secure redress by placing the matter in the hands of the proper authorities."

Robber Rescuers Caught.

PENA (Mich.), June 28.—Morgan, Haney and Harrington, three of the four robbers who rescued McMunn, their leader, at Ravenna, O., while he was being brought here from Pittsburgh, have been arrested after a desperate fight, in which one man was so injured that he died. Sixteen thousand dollars was offered for the capture of the gang, and the police all over the country were requested to keep a lookout for the murderers.

Fire in Hurley, Wis.

MILWAUKEE, June 28.—The business part of Hurley, Wis., was destroyed by fire today. The town is one of mushroom settlement in the mining region, and buildings were not very valuable. The loss will not exceed $80,000. For a time it was feared the whole town would burn.

Laborers Blown Up.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 28.—Some Italians, while blasting this morning for the grading of streets at San Juan-by-the-Sea, were blown up and severely injured by a premature explosion. It is thought one of them will die.

President Cleveland Saving His Salary.

[Washington Letter to the Savannah News.]

President Cleveland is said to be saving three-fifths of his salary. This is a thrifty showing for a newly-married man, to say the least of it. Despite all the talk one hears about the insufficiency of the Presidential salary, there is no doubt that it is not only ample for all the requirements of the office, but sufficiently large to allow of the saving of a snug little fortune every year besides. He has no bills to pay for rent, heating or lighting, and the staff of messengers and doorkeepers provided at Government expense is sufficiently large to obviate the necessity of hiring many servants out of the Presidential purse. The five state dinners required to be given each year are, comparatively speaking, inexpensive affairs. Probably none of them ever cost over $300 or $400 at the outside. The flowers, which are ordinarily a matter of considerable expense, are furnished by the White House conservatory and the hothouses of the Congressional gardens, and the music is furnished by the Marine Band. At the receptions nothing is served—not even ice water. There is absolutely no expense whatever attached to them. Every President managed to save some little money out of his salary. Mr. Cleveland will retire at the end of his term with not less, certainly, than $120,000. That is doing better, probably, than any of his predecessors did. It assuredly is more than he would have made at his practice in Buffalo in four years. On the whole, therefore, it can be said, without much fear of contradiction, that the Presidential office is not half so bad an investment, financially, as most people have been led to believe by the statements appearing from time to time in the newspapers.

Where the Great Generals Are.

[Bismarck Tribune.]

A correspondent asks: "Are all the great generals of the war dead?" Why, bless you, no. We can count 200 or 300 right here in Bismarck, and if you will come out to Dakota and travel around a few weeks you will blush for having asked such a question. If you go with us we will introduce you to Gen. Snorter, who came to the Territory a few years ago a poor man, with nothing to give him a standing save his energy and pluck, and the fact that through sheer strategy and brains he crossed the line ahead of the Sheriff. He assumed an air of prosperity shortly after his arrival, was elected to the Legislature, has killed his man, and is now a general in good standing. Then there's Gen. Gall, who gets right to the front on all occasions, and who secured his title by introducing himself to the editor in a saloon and calling for the best. This, however, was not the first time he was recognized as as a general, as he had made quite a start by judicious registering at the hotels and by keeping his shirts and collars marked "Gen." In big red letters, and letting the marked parts stick out through his satchel in a careless way while traveling.

O, no; the great generals are not all dead.

Jay Gould as a Human Barometer.

[Omaha World.]

Jay Gould might be called the barometer of national prosperity. Watch him and his actions and you will get quite a good idea of the probabilities in the commercial and railroad universe. When you observe that he is contracting his undertakings, concentrating and condensing his enterprises and drawing in his horns, to use a figure of speech, look out for stormy weather in the world of commerce, railroads and finance. He always "stands from under" when things become overcast and before other people can even see a cloud. But when, as at present, you see Gould buying and building railroads, expanding his vast interests and enterprises, and bringing all his enormous wealth into activity, you may safely predict bright, sunny weather in the financial and railroad world.

The Root of All Evil.

[Detroit Free Press.]

A Virginia farmer didn't want to sell his farm to capitalists because he looked upon it as against religion to be rich, but when they offered an extra $500 he backslid long enough to make out the papers.

What She Can Do.

Turkey Making Preparations for Future Trouble.

The Prince's Reception Could Have Been Warmer.

Bishop Will Attend a Garden Party—King Milan Insists Upon Abdicating—English Races —Gen. Boulanger's Location— Other Foreign News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, June 28.—By Cable and Associated Press.] In the House of Lords this afternoon Lord Salisbury declined, in the public interest, to lay the papers relating to the Anglo-Turkish Convention in reference to Egypt upon the table. The Government, he said, had acceded to the delay in the signing of the convention, which Turkey had asked, on the definite understanding that the treaty should be ratified by Turkey on Monday without fail.

LONDON, June 28.—In the Commons today Sir James Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, said the Government did not know the terms of the French nobles to the Sultan with reference to the Egyptian Convention; that England had had no communication with France on the subject, and there was no ground for assuming that the convention would entangle England in war.

LONDON, June 18.—In the Commons tonight numerous new clauses were proposed by the Parnellites members, but all were rejected. The Government protested against wasting time over proposals which they claimed were applicable to common law.

Upon a motion to adjourn the debate W. H. Smith arose and said that, after the discussion of this and the preceding evening, the House would be prepared for a notice he was about to give. [Cries of "Clôture!" and cheers.] He would on Thursday move that at 7 o'clock Monday evening a resolution on the report of the stage be put seriatim, without debate.

THE AMEER VICTORIOUS.

LONDON, June 28.—In the House of Lords today, Viscount Cross, Secretary of State for India, replying to Lord Roseberry, said the Viceroy of India telegraphed, under date of June 26th, that a serious engagement took place on the 13th instant between the Chilsaes and the Ameer's troops, and that the Viceroy's agent at Candahar reported that the Ameer's troops had gained a decisive victory.

AMERICANS' MOVEMENTS ABROAD.

LONDON, June 28.—Phelps, United States Minister, dined with the Queen this evening. Mr. and Mr. Phelps, Secretary and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine and their daughter, with Col. and Mrs. John Hay and other Americans, will attend the Queen's garden party at Buckingham Palace Thursday.

BOULANGER LOCATED.

PARIS, June 28.—Gen. Boulanger's corps is stationed at Clermont Ferrand, 250 miles from Paris. The Cabinet, it is said, decided upon this disposition of Gen. Boulanger's case in order to insure his absence from Paris during the July fêtes.

TURKEY'S PREPARATIONS.

BERLIN, June 28.—The Veissische Zeitung says the Porte has ordered the Germania Company, of Kiel, to dispatch to Turkey a vessel, with two torpedo-catchers; also nine torpedo-boats. The vessels are required to be powerful and speedy.

ENGLISH RACES.

LONDON, June 28.—North Derby, one and one-half miles, for three-year-olds, at the Newcastle summer meeting today, was won by R. Botterill's colt Salisbury, by a length, Headworth's colt Puritan second, Perkins's colt Eglamore third.

WILL ABDICATE.

LONDON, June 28.—The Chronicle's Vienna correspondent insists, in spite of official denials, that King Milan intends to abdicate the throne of Servia as soon as he returns to Belgrade, on Friday.

MIXED SENTIMENT.

DUBLIN, June 28.—Prince Albert Victor of Wales reviewed the troops in Phœnix Park today. The reception given the Prince by the populace was a mixed one, combining cheers with hisses.

A COSTLY EXPERIMENT.

PARIS, June 28.—M. Ferron, Minister of War, explained to the Budget Committee today that the experiment of mobilizing the army would cost f.8,000,000.

DARING ATTEMPT.

A Stage Waylaid and the Driver and a Passenger Shot.

FOREST CITY, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] When the stage which left Forest City yesterday afternoon, was nearing the Mountain House the driver, Thomas Davis, and one passenger named Ben Treloar were commanded to halt. The next instant the report of a rifle was heard, and, looking from whence it came, they saw a heavy-set man with a mask above them on bank. The ball cut the whip, and in its course took the thumb from the right hand of Davis and imbedded itself in the knee of Treloar. The driver kept right along, not noticing anything more until Mountain House was reached, when, reporting what took place, a dispatch was sent to Forest City. At present there are men armed with rifles scouring the country to discover the would-be robber. It is feared that amptutation of the leg of Treloar is necessary. Those in search of the robber have returned, being unable to find him.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

San Francisco May Yet Lose Its Steamship Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Canadian Pacific Railway is striving to operate its steamship line from this city, and may succeed. A San Francisco merchant wrote to General Manager Van Horne some time ago, asking what the prospects were for his line running here. Van Horne replied that they were favorable. Negotiations which are going on at present, he said, are bound to result as they want them. A report that the Canadian Pacific failed to get dock room here, and has now nearly completed arrangements with the Pacific Coast Steamship Company to carry its trade from this city and Portland and other coast points to Vancouver and Victoria, has been circulated.

OMINOUS SIGNS.

The United States Navy to the Fore.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The French man-of-war Decres and another vessel, about as large, have been ordered from Tapiti to Honolulu, and the first cruiser of the Chilian navy, the Esmeralda, is making ready for sea. The Government has ordered the wooden man-of-war Adams to start for the scene of trouble immediately. She is on the coast of or at Panama, being now on her way from Callao. Fifty seamen and marines will start for Panama next Saturday to join the Adams.

Warring Mongols.

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—At Mormon Island, in this county, a regular battle took place between two Chinese companies for possession of a mining claim. There were ten men on one side and fourteen on the other, and fifteen or twenty shots were fired. One man was shot in the back, and another was badly beaten on the arms and body with clubs. The Chinaman who was shot arrived here this afternoon. Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of seven Celestials. The claim over which the fight took place is situated on Blue Ravine, above Folsom Island, and is said to be very rich. One company now holds the fort, and more trouble is anticipated.

Declared Her Intentions.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Mrs. Langtry went before the United States Commissioner this morning and declared her intention of becoming a United States citizen.

Incendiary Burglars.

CHICO, June 28.—The saloon of C. W. Diler was robbed last night, and the burglars set on fire the liquor and kerosene in the cellar. On leaving, the robbers shut the cellar door, which smothered the flames. The damage is small.

Narrow Escape from Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—A fire started in a hay depot at 1141 Market street, this morning, burning it completely, and also burned three adjoining frame buildings. Loss, $10,000. A number of inmates narrowly escaped burning to death.

Pension Frauds.

BINGHAMPTON (N. Y.), June 28.—John Laidlow and Dr. Robert N. Miles, of Elmira, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hall today on a charge of defrauding the Pension Office at Washington of $13,000. Their tool is said to have been a blind man of Elmira. The prisoners were committed to await the arrival of bail.

THE MARSHFIELD FIRE.

The Loss Estimated at Nearly $4,000,000—The City's Mournful Appearance—People Deserting—Relief Needed.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.), June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The loss resulting from the destruction of the city of Marshfield will not be less than $3,000,000 and may be nearly $3,500,000. The heaviest loser is the Upham Manufacturing Company, whose loss is approximated at $800,000. Twelve solid blocks of stores were destroyed. A dispatch tonight says that the fire burned until an early hour this morning, and but one house remains unscathed. Half the population is still there, but are suffering for want of clothing. Supplies were sent from neighboring towns that answered the purpose temporarily, but Mayor Upham telegraphs that more provisions must be sent at once or the people will suffer. The remaining inhabitants are campin ing the woods tonight.

Details are coming in but slowly. It appears that when the fire started there was a high wind and the flames were carried with remarkable rapidity, seeming almost to leap from house to house. Twelve buildings were blown up with dynamite in a vain effort to check the flames. Conductor Grayson, who brought through a sleeper from St. Paul on the Central line this morning, said that the only thing to be seen at Marshfield, where the depot used to stand, was a house and an expanse of blackened ruins, with here and there remnants of the smokestack and some warped and twisted machinery to show where the mill stood. He describes the scene as one of woeful desolation, hardly relieved by the presence of human beings, as everybody had left or was leaving as fast as possible. Yesterday afternoon most of the well-to-do people left for Chippewa Falls, and this morning two carloads of homeless working people were brought as far as Steven's Point, the railway company carrying them free. Grayson described them as a sorry-looking crowd.

Adjournment of the Grand Lodge—Officers Elected.

MILWAUKEE, June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen, adjourned today. Among the important legislation was a revision of the laws defining the powers of the supreme and grand lodges, and adjusting the system of relief extended to the different grand lodge jurisdiction, based upon the mortality experience of the organization for the past ten years. The ritual adopted in 1886 was modified and revised. Today a proposition to place a monument over the grave of Father Upchurch, founder of the order, in Bellefontaine Cemetery, St. Louis, and to erect a memorial hall in Meadville, Pa., the birthplace of the organization, was adopted. The election of officers for the ensuing year was completed as follows: George W. Badger, New Ontario, Past Supreme Master Workman; W. H. Jordan, California, Master Workman; C. M. Masters, Wisconsin, Foreman; W. R. Graham, Iowa, Overseer; N. W. Tackett, Pennsylvania, Recorder; J. Lenhart, Pennsylvania, Receiver; J. H. Child, Oregon, Guide; W. M. Butts, Maryland, Watchman; T. The next session will be held at Louisville, Ky., the third Tuesday of June of next year.

THE ATCHISON SYSTEM.

Its Advantages for Reaching San Diego Ahead.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 28.—The California Central Railway has its roadbed all graded south from Rincon, the present terminus of the track, to several miles below San Juan-by-the-Sea, the new seaside resort, where the railroad first reaches the ocean, three miles below San Juan Capistrano. The Southern Pacific surveyors have run several lines south from Santa Ana to reach San Diego, but as the Atchison system have the first right of way, it is a very difficult matter for the Southern Pacific to secure a line that they can afford to build.

Renegade Redskins.

GLOBE (Ariz.), June 28.—Medicine men have worked the San Carlos Agency Indians into a very restless and unpleasant condition. There are now about 400 Apaches at Coyote Springs, a distance of some seven miles south, who left the agency last week and are holding their war dances every evening. They have driven away several horses belonging to the ranchers living near the western border of the reservation, some of which have returned, showing signs of very hard riding. The greater portion of the Indians are Mojaves.

Application Forms Not to Be Changed.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The special committee appointed last week to suggest modifications in the civil service rules finished its work today. It was decided not to recommend any change in the form of application by candidates, but to recommend that hereafter all examination papers be marked up in Washington, and that the marking be done by a board of fifteen members from different offices throughout the country.

Fire at Bakersfield.

BAKERSFIELD, June 28.—A fire broke out about 2 o'clock this morning in the residence of the Catholic priest, adjoining the church. The house was a total loss; church, partial. Insurance, $2200. The fire was caused by a window-curtain blowing into a candle burning in the bedroom.

New Mail Arrangements.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—On and after July 1st mails will go by rail between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara. The railroad is not yet completed, but the gap of four or five miles will be covered by the railroad company by means of messengers.

A Valuable Racehorse Dead.

LEXINGTON (Ky.), June 28.—Tenbroeck, the famous thoroughbred, died at the home of his owner this morning. The cause is thought to be apoplexy. The horse was 15 years old. His owner was offered $50,000 for him last week.

THE NEVADA CALAMITY.

Nothing Yet Known of the Imprisoned Unfortunates.

VIRGINIA (Nev.), June 28.—[By the Associated Press.] Connection has not yet been made with the 1500-foot level, though strenuous exertions are being made to accomplish it. Four thousand dollars have already been subscribed for the relief of the bereaved.

The holes have been sent in with the drill twelve feet beyond the bottom of the incline winze, but have failed to break through into the Best and Belcher drift, where the imprisoned miners are located. No more drilling ahead will be done until the winze is excavated up to the end of the long drill holes, which will not be accomplished before tomorrow morning.

Immense Success.

The sale of stock in the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Land and Water Company (the Wolfskill Ranch) surprises even the projectors of the enterprise. But it is not surprising when it is known that the foothill railroad is an assured fact, and the purchasers of this stock at $100 per share are getting land at $150 per acre that is worth $300, even in a large body. Only 2400 shares were offered to the public at $100, and it is nearly all sold. When that amount is sold no more can be had at par. Do not delay if you want a first-class investment on the easiest possible terms. Byram & Poindexter, 27 West First street.

South Riverside.

"GEM OF THE CITRUS BELT,"

Phenomenal in Growth and Prosperity

Note carefully some of the points in favor of South Riverside as a place for investment, residence or business. It is located about 40 miles east of Los Angeles and 14 miles southwest of Riverside, on the new Santa Fe line, and at the junction of the Pomona, South Riverside and Elsinore Railroad; it is the center of a very fertile fruit-growing and rich mineral section; is a part of the great orange belt, where can be grown to perfection all kinds of fine fruits and plants known to Southern California.

The tract is subdivided into lots of 5 and 10 acres, and present prices are much lower than elsewhere for the same soil and similar conditions. There are three water systems that will furnish an ample supply for irrigation and domestic use.

In addition to the general fruit interests, there are many kinds of mineral and clay that will soon come into use for building, piping, tiling, etc. White and black sulphur springs, hot and cold, are only a short distance from the townsite. These springs have long been known for their excellent curative properties.

There are several miles of rich valley land tributary, while the place has within itself all the elements of successful growth and prosperity.

The town of South Riverside is most unique and inviting. A three-mile grand boulevard encircles the place. This broad avenue will be lined on each side with the choicest variety of plants and trees; from every part of the town the view is magnificent—unsurpassed for extent and variety.

A large amount of permanent improvement is well under way. A fine three-story hotel occupies a central block. The building is modern in design, complete in appointments, and will soon become a delightful resort for health and pleasure seekers. A large bank block is going up, which in design and finish would be a credit to any place. A number of costly residences are building and many more are under contract to go up soon.

Ample provision is made for all public needs and no effort is spared to beautify and adorn the place. Ground is reserved for schools, churches and parks.

South Riverside will become noted for beauty of location, fine climate, active business, having all the advantage of a railroad center, and being near to Los Angeles and within easy reach of mountain and ocean resorts.

Within six months lots and lands have doubled—in some cases quadrupled—in value. The same property will no doubt double again in the next six months. Everything now gives promise of growth and advance in values unprecedented in the history of such enterprises.

PORTRAITS OF CHARLES D. KEEP,

The Late Publisher of The Wall Street Daily News.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 18.

It was about twenty years ago—perhaps less—that Charles D. Keep made his appearance in Rochester, N. Y., as a reporter on Tracy & Rew's Evening Express. He was young, poor and ambitious, and possessed of nerve enough for a whole staff of newspaper reporters. At that time the managing editor—as he is to-day—was unknown outside one or two cities in the United States, and the city editor was only a head reporter. Each member of the staff was his own managing editor in fact, and so it is not at all surprising that Mr. Keep soon had the quiet citizens of Rochester by the ears. No scandal could be so deeply covered that Charley Keep couldn't find it, no political secret was safe, and it was hard work for the police even to keep him from anticipating all their fine work.

CHARLES D. KEEP.

If news was scarce Keep would invent it. One summer he applied for a vacation, his salary to go on while he was away. This was agreed to on condition that Keep should furnish something interesting for the paper every day he was away. Keep decided to pass his time of rest in Canada, and went at once to Toronto. The next day he sent a two column letter to his paper, and when the first edition came out the town was instantly thrown into an uproar.

It was during the Fenian excitement, and Keep announced in his letter that a party of well known Rochester men—giving their names—who were most of them Englishmen, had been in Canada on a fishing excursion, had been arrested and thrown into a British dungeon on suspicion of being Fenian sympathizers. Keep wrote a moving account of the sufferings endured by the prisoners; told how they were obliged to subsist on bread and water, and alleged that the two who were suspected of being the leaders of the party were subjected to solitary confinement and were kept in irons. This precious story was supplemented by an account of an interview with two or three of the victims of Canadian suspicion and an urgent appeal to the United States government to at once right the wrong suffered by the imprisoned citizens. The case was aggravated enough, the writer alleged, to call for war.

A number of the supposed prisoners' friends called a meeting at once, and doubtless a delegation would have been sent to Canada the next day had not the fishermen returned to Rochester on the evening train, sound and well, and free from evidences of imprisonment in a foreign jail.

Of course there was great indignation, and two or three of the victims of the joke threatened to sue the paper for libel, but the matter was finally dropped, though Keep was for some time in disgrace with his employers, who were as much deceived as anybody in the matter. Keep regained his standing somewhat later by a balloon ascension which he made with a traveling balloonist. The mayor of the city was induced to make the ascent, and every paper in the place wanted to send a reporter. It was decided that the balloon would only carry double, but Keep's cheek and persistence carried him through, and when the balloon arose the other reporters were disgusted to find that there were three men in the car and that one of them was Keep.

Well, they had a nice sail in the clouds, but their landing experience was a terror. The balloon drifted fourteen or fifteen miles to the northwest of the city, and when it began to sink the aeronaut threw out his grapnel. Everything looked favorable for a safe landing, but there was a strong current of wind near the earth that the voyagers had not counted on, and when the balloon struck it all their calculations were upset. The grapnel caught in a rail fence, the car was tilted and the fence was almost as badly demoralized as the balloonists' nerves. The balloon was carried along at a lively rate and the rails flew in every direction. Keep was the first man spilled out and he came down all in a heap, pretty badly frightened and shaken up, but not much hurt. The mayor fell out about ten rods further on, but the balloonist clung to the floating craft for some distance. At last he was brushed out of the basket by a tree's branches, which also tore open the gas bag.

Of course Keep had a big "scoop" on the rest of the boys, and he made the most of his story.

The public is already familiar with Keep's later life, his success with The Wall Street News and the manner in which he annoyed Jay Gould through its columns.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Hanlan and Gaudaur—Pugilism, Yachting and Rowing.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 13.

Despite the reports to the contrary which are being industriously circulated in some quarters, I am prepared to state authoritatively that Hanlan, notwithstanding his recent defeat by Gaudaur at Pullman, will go to Australia to row Beach once more for the world's championship. The date set for the great event is Nov. 26, 1887, and as there is a forfeit already up there need be no fear of Hanlan's shirking the engagement. Hanlan says that he intends to win, if possible, but adds that no matter which of them may prove successful two shells will, on the eventful day, go over the Nepean river course in the quickest time ever made on that river. In this I fully agree with him.

The improvements (?) which during the past season have been made to the Priscilla (the yacht which was regarded as a world beater at the time she was built) have beyond the shadow of a doubt destroyed whatever chances she hitherto had of being selected to defend the America's cup against the Scotch cutter Thistle. I saw her run away from, with the greatest apparent ease, by the Galatea and Atlantic in turn. Some yachtsmen assert that the Galatea can defeat the Genesta almost as badly as the Thistle did, but no one will claim that the Galatea, which so handily outsailed the Priscilla, could administer the same dose to the Scotchman. It will therefore be very readily seen that the Priscilla would be, comparatively speaking, almost out of her class with the Thistle.

Now that Boston has managed to get so close on to the heels of the Detroit sluggers in the race for the League penant, the results of the games are now scanned each morning with more avidity than formerly, and the result is not now regarded as so much of a walk over for Detroit. All of which goes to show that while the old baseball maxim, that "No one man can win the championship," is no doubt a sound one, yet one man may still contribute by his influence and example to greatly aid in that (to a baseball club) most desirable consummation. In proof of which, witness the work of the Boston team this season, with $10,000 Mike Kelly at its head, and with the same force as they had last year, and then contrast the work of the two seasons. All of which goes to show that the Bostons were very much in need of a captain who is also an "inspirer," and that its management were very wise to secure one in the person of Mike Kelly, even if he did cost them $10,000. The man has paid for his release and salary in the increased receipts already.

MAIN STREET AND MANCHESTER AVENUE—240-acre ranch, with large two-story residence; two large barns, stables, dairy, chicken-houses, windmill, tank, well of good water, large gum grove and many valuable improvements. MAIN STREET, CORNER SAN PEDRO ROAD—41½ acres of finely improved land, with good buildings; cut up nicely into 5, 10, 15 and 20-acre tracts, and good profits made in three months, as more demands are now made for small tracts than can be supplied, and it is increasing every day. Price, $200 per acre; half cash.

OFF MAIN STREET, TWO MILES FROM CITY LIMITS and one mile from new station of Santa Monica line, eight acres, with all improvements. A bargain, $250 an acre. Immediate possession, if necessary. All cash.

AT ORANGE, CAL.—We have one 28-acre ranch here, situated on Chapman street. Horse cars are now passing in front of this whole tract. This will cut up into lots at good profit, which the owner could do, as this is being done on both sides of his place, but he wishes to sell en block. A great bargain. Value of present crop on the ranch is more than $2500. Price, $15,000; reasonable terms.

We beg to call the attention of investors generally to our special list of bargains, which is sent post free on application.

We show large returns for moneys invested by us for our clients, and we gladly refer to them for references.

440 Acres in the Highland Park Tract.

This property is about four miles from the courthouse, ¼ mile from the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad station at Highland Park, 1½ miles from Garvanzo. The land is rolling, hilly land, with an abundance of territory well adapted to subdivision, and with a large number of hills and knolls suitable for elegant villa sites, with a full view of the whole of the surrounding country. The soil is rich and susceptible of cultivation. There are from ten to fifteen large, undeveloped springs on it which, when developed, will produce an unlimited amount of water. The tract is composed of what is known as the addition to Highland Park, and a portion of the Judson and Morgan tracts. Within one-eighth of a mile from it the Morgan tract is subdivided on the hills and lots selling for $250. There are four of the most beautiful sites for an hotel that are in this county, and they are very easily reached by constructing roads at a nominal cost. This property can be had cheap up to July 15th and a large sum realized from it in a short time. The surrounding low, level lands all around this piece of land cannot be purchased for less than $1000 per acre. A large creek constitutes the northern boundary of the land, on the other side of which is the land owned by Mr. Glassell. There is a water right in a large reservoir on the Glassell property which goes with this land. This property must be sold at once, and for that reason the price has been placed unusually low, in order to guarantee a quick disposition of it, Price, $215 per acre; half cash.

Free carriages to see any of these properties. We are agents for Phœnix Land Improvement Company, Phœnix, Ariz.; Long Beach lands, Newcastle, Placer county, lands, Murietta lands, Union Central Insurancee Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Vanderink Improvement Company, of Monrovia, Cal.

BUSINESS.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, June 28.

The stock market underwent a sudden and decided change for the better today, but was feverish, and the early hours were quite excited. The pressure was renewed in the forenoon, and many disquieting rumors were put in circulation. This was ended before noon, and it was then given out that Field had repurchased a large block of Manhattan stock for Gould, and the latter was said to be again under mark. The room traders and professionals followed the lead of the longs, and many of the former who were very conspicuous previously in immersing prices became equally prominent in bidding them up, and the shorts were covered all around, and rumors of a settlement of the telegraph war again became current. Money was again very tight, but eased up perceptibly toward the end of the day, while there was a further reduction of ¼ per cent. in sterling exchange rates. The early drive was especially heavy against Pacific Mail and Gould stocks, but later they were very prominent in the rally. Almost everything is higher this evening.

Government bonds dull and steady.

RUIZ RELEASED.

THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM VERY SHADOWY.

Examined for a Crime Committed by Some One Sixteen Years Ago—Hazy Testimony. Insufficient to Convict—Discharged.

There was a large crowd assembled in Justice Taney's courtroom at 2 o'clock p.m. yesterday, most of them being native Californians. The occasion calling them together was the examination of Francisco Ruiz, who was charged with having murdered one Thomas Velardes at Anaheim, some sixteen years agone, by shooting him while the parties were at a Spanish celebration. G. Wiley Wells came in and took his seat with a serenely confident smile on his face. District Attorney Dupuy came in with his Deputy, Mr. Chelf, soon followed by Deputy Denis. Shortly after Deputy Harrison put in an appearance, and Deputy Dupuy departed, leaving the case in the hands of the three able deputies. A triangular pyramid, with these three heads for an apex, was formed for a little while, and then Deputy Chelf, in his pure Castilian accent, called who was sworn for the prosecution. She said: I live in San Pedro. I knew Thomas Velardes in his lifetime. He died about sixteen years ago, at Anaheim. I was present at his death. I was his wife at the time. He died from being shot. He was brought to the house about 6 o'clock, and lived till about 1 o'clock. He was brought from a place where they were holding a Spanish celebration, and I was with him from that time till he died. He was wounded in the left side, the bullet coming out of the back of his shoulder. He was in his right mind when he was brought to the house, but lost his senses afterward. He did not express any opinion as to whether he would live or die. He was strong and healthy before he was wounded.

MICOLA FRANCO,

Cross-examined: He was brought home at 6 o'clock in the morning, and died at 1 o'clock at night.

JOSE MARIA AGUILAR

sworn: I have lived at Anaheim eighteen or nineteen years, and was living there when Thomas Velardes was killed. I was present at the time he was killed, and knew Francisco Ruiz, who lived there at that time. I saw that the deceased was fighting some one else, and saw all the crowd come together at once. I was a little boy, and ran out of the crowd. I did not see who killed him. He was fighting with a man named Verdugo. They were fighting when I saw them, and the deceased had a club in his hand. I heard a pistol shot then, and a large crowd gathered. The people came before the shot was fired, and I was a little way off myself; perhaps three or four yards. I saw Francisco Ruiz walking among the crowd at the time, but I cannot remember how long it was before the shot was fired that I first saw him. I cannot tell exactly, it might have been fifteen or twenty minutes before the shot was fired that I saw him. The shot was fired while the crowd was densely packed, and as I was but a little boy at the time, all I could tell was that the parties mentioned were fighting, and that there was a large crowd gathered. I was so small then that I got scared at the fighting, and working out of the crowd, I ran home. I did not see Velardes after he was shot because I did not go near him, but I could see people had lifted him up so that he sat on the ground. I do not remember who the people were that were there, nor did I see a pistol in any person's hands. I had known Chatto Ruiz a long time in Anaheim, and saw him fifteen or twenty minutes previous to the firing of the shot. I do not remember when I next saw him, but I know he did not come to my house. I had seen defendant in and around Anaheim for several years previous to this shooting, then I did not see him again until two or three weeks before his arrest on this charge, which took place about three or four weeks ago. I cannot tell what year this shooting took place, nor can I tell how old I was at the time; it may, perhaps, have been sixteen or seventeen years ago. After seeing the deceased raised up after being shot I did not see him again. I was not at his home after he died, neither did I attend the funeral. I have never talked with defendant about this. I do not remember having had a conversation with the brother of the deceased in which I told him I saw Ruiz kill Thomas Velardes. I think I told him I had heard he had been killed. If I told him I saw the shooting I lied to him about it. [Sensation]. I do not remember advising Manuel Velardes to have Ruiz arrested.

No cross-examination.

JOHNES KERCH,

sworn, testified that he lived out on Pico street, at present, but had lived in Anaheim in 1870 or 1871, at the time of the difficulty between Ruiz and Velardes, and was living there at the time the shooting took place. Velardes had got Ruiz down and was hurting him, when Ruiz managed to get away and, drawing a pistol, shot Velardes while he was lying helpless on the ground. Thought defendant did the shooting. Defendant was called at that time—besides Francisco Ruiz—Francisco Morado and Francisco de Torio. Am sure that the man who did the shooting ran off directly the shooting was done, and I have not seen him since. I knew him intimately for several years previous. At the time he ran away after the shooting he stopped a moment to say, "Good-bye, we will meet again!" to his mother. I have not seen him since. I continued to live at Anaheim a year after the shooting of Velardes. Was well acquainted with Ruiz at the time previous to the shooting, having lived together and slept together, working on the same job. I think he must have been about 19 or 20 years old at the time. Never heard him go by any other names than those mentioned. He was a steady workman. I was not more than 16 at the time and could not speak any English. Yes, the defendant's face is changed to me so that I do not recoghize him exactly, but he had the same kind of face as defendant's. He was healthy looking and taller than me at that time. [Prisoner and witness standing showed witness to be the taller man by two or three inches.] I was present when the shooting took place, which was at about 4 o'clock in the morning. Sheriff Davis came into the house where the wounded man was, and he, being one of Davis's deputies, called to the Sheriff to go after the defendant, telling him, "I am dying! I am dying! Esta muerto! Esta muerto! Oh, what do you think of men being shot dead while helpless?"

Cross-examination: I am 32 years old. Was living with Pedro Lopez at Anaheim when this shooting occurred. Was a boy then, and was at a dance with Alfreda Franco, but left about 9 or 10 o'clock. The first thing I knew of the quarrel was when I heard some person ask for a pistol. Then I heard Morades or Ruiz say he had it, but some person told him not to give it up. Then some person struck Velardes with a stick of wood and the crowd gathered close together and the shot was fired. Only one shot was fired. I cannot name any person present at the time.

As it was necessary to ask a few more questions from Micola Franco, who wanted to go away on the train, she was put on the stand and testified: I knew Francisco Ruiz to be called "Chatto." No other names but these.

Cross-examination: I do not remember who was present when Velardes told me Ruiz had shot him, but they were many. Four men carried him to the house, and many followed. Do not remember such a man as Eskerch. He may have been there, but I do not remember him. I was not well acquainted with deceased, nor do I know how long I knew him. I have told you all I know.

CHARLES MORRIS,

on being sworn, testified: I do know defendant, and have known him thirteen or fourteen years. He used to be in San Diego county, with a team and wagon, hauling freight. I knew him at Anaheim, when he moved there, and have slept in his house. I know him as Francisco Ruiz, but have heard his familiar friends call him Chatto."

Cross-examination: I was engaged in San Diego county four or five years with Ruiz and saw him afterward at Anaheim, and have known him as an industrious man.

ALFREDO FRANCO

testified that he was acquainted with Francisco Ruiz, but did not know how long he had known him nor how long it had been since he had known him first. I remember when Velardes was killed, and knew Ruiz then. Don't know how long Ruiz remained at Anaheim after Velardes's death. Did not know Ruiz had been away from Anaheim thirteen or fourteen years, nor did I know him to be called by any other name but Francisco and sometimes "Chatto." I was not with the crowd when the murder of Velardes took place. Was at home. I heard he was shot as I went to my work next morning, but did not know who did the shooting, as I was too young.

Cross-examination: I know a man named Eskerch, but do not remember where he was at the time of the murder. I know Pedro Lopez; he is my father-in-law, and I remember Eskerch used to live with him.

MANUEL VELARDES.

This witness was evidently anxious to get on the stand, and while being questioned by the State was quite polite, but on the counsel for the defense taking hold of him he not only got surly, but was ripping mad and had to be reminded of his position by the Court before he would answer any question, however simple. His testimony was as follows:

I am the brother of Tomas Velardes, who was murdered at Anaheim in June, in 1871. Death was caused by a pistol shot through the body. I do not know the defendant, but know it is HIM! I mean he killed my brother. I attended the funeral. The men who saw my brother killed said Ruiz is the man who murdered him. I saw Ruiz after I buried my brother and talked to him but two words. He came to me then and asked me what I wanted and I told him "Nothing." The man who was with me then played he was sick and left me, and I heard him puking. When he came back he told me to look out, as that was "Chatto," who killed my brother, and that was the reason my friend played he was sick, so as to get out of the way. I have been to Anaheim twice—when I buried my brother and once more.

Cross-examination: I live here. I have been to Anaheim twice. My statements are all truthful. I have had no difficulty with Ruiz. Have only seen the man a few times. I never moved from San Juan to Anaheim. I don't know how long I have lived here. I have had no trouble with defendant. I told you so before. I don't know how long I have lived here. What is the use to ask me again? I have told you I don't know how long I have lived here. I may have lived here longer than seven years. I don't know. I have never lived in Anaheim, nor nearer to it than Los Angeles.

This closed the case for the prosecution, and the defense let the case go to the court without argument or calling a witness, and the case was at once dismissed, for lack of evidence to which a commitment might be attached.

THE W. C. T. U. CONCERT.

A Good Audience and an Enjoyable Programme Presented.

The selections rendered were well received by the audience, the vocal duet by Mrs. Catching and Mr. Williams, and the piano duo, by Misses Kinney and Hubbard, receiving more than the usual share of appreciation. Prof. Wilde's grand organ solo called forth an encore, to which he responded with a second fine production.

CATARRH!

THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,

CONSUMPTION,

Together with diseases of the
EYE, EAR AND HEART,
Successfully treated by
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.,
M. C. P. S. O.,
No. 275 North Main Street,
A few doors south of the new postoffice, Los Angeles, Cal.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by
DR. WILLIAMS,
With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and oet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But, this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,

WHO IS THE LUCKY MAN?

THIS MEANS YOU.

Here is a Little Speculation that will discount anything in the Market

Eighty-five acres of choice land, suitable for the successful growing of strawberries of the finest kind, as well as any small fruit or vegetables, in the town of Compton, less than one-half mile from the railroad depot, has been subdivided into sixteen tracts, of which fifteen contain five acres each and one ten acres; 65 acres of it in alfalfa. One of the five-acre tracts has a $2500 house, $500 barn, and the finest artesian well in the land, and is easily worth $4500.

Any one of the five-acre tracts can be so planted as to support any man and his family, and do it well.

These sixteen tracts will be distributed among the sixteen lucky purchasers of the sixteen tickets, now for sale.

Every purchaser gets more than the worth of his money, and, besides, there are
